EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.
3. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Nikhil Iyengar, Reg. # 60910 on 7/30-8/1/08.

The application has been amended as follows.

In the CLAIMS:

The claims have been amended according to the herein attached Amendment, namely, "Proposed Claim Amendment for Enabling Examiner's Amendment", provided as file "Proposd_80108.pdf".

Some typographical errors (claims 7-10) have been corrected by the Examiner within on the above Amendment, and this has been communicated to the representative.

In the Specifications: ABSTRACT

Amend the Abstract as follows.

A rollback manager (101) creates a restore point (105) on a computer (103). The rollback manager (101) stores a reboot indicator (111) in non-revertible storage (107). The rollback manager (101) monitors (201) the reboot indicator (111) to detect (111) an unexpected reboot during deployment of a modification (113). The rollback manager (101) configures the computer (103) responsive to the reboot indicator (111). The rollback manager (101) can roll back (205) the system state, responsive to detecting a failed modification (113) deployment. The rollback manager (101) can deem (311) the computer to be stable, responsive to detecting a successful modification (113) deployment.

Double Patenting: withdrawn

4. As per the above Examiner's Amendment, it has been determined that the previous Double Patenting Rejection regarding conflicting subject matter between the instant Application and co-pending Application No. 10,642,355 in view of USPN: 6,205,558 is not longer applicable hence withdrawn.

EXAMINER'S STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

5. Claims 1, 3, 7-15, 17-20, 22, 26, 28, 33-35 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The prior art taken separately or jointly does not suggest or teach the following features.

A method or computer product for rolling back a system state after a modification of a computer system, comprising a rollback manager operable for (i) creating a restore point, storing a reboot indicator and an initial audit information in non-reversible storage, the audit information comprising enumeration of items present in the system state before deployment of the modification; (ii) monitoring the reboot indicator and determining based on the indicator whether a detected reboot occurred during the deployment of the modification was expected or unexpected; (iii) responsive to determining that no unexpected reboot has occurred, re-auditing the computer by comparing each of the enumerated items in the initial audit information with items present in the system state after said deployed modification; and responsive to not deeming that the computer is in stable state, rolling back the system state according to the restore point.

Sobel, USPN: 6, 205,558, discloses modifying a FAT system and leaving it in a unstable state with making a copy thereof with the system in a partially deployed state, then responsive to incurring reboot, using a recovery program operable with said copy to attempt to perform and finalize modification of the FAT system from the last left off point to a deemed stable point via successive forced reboot-triggered recovery action as needed. But Sobel does not discloses all the combined steps of (i) to (iii) in creating a restore point, storing of reboot indicator and initial audit information --including enumerated items of initial system state -- in a non-reversible, then deploying the modification while monitoring the stored indicator for determining on any unexpected reboot, whereby re-auditing by comparing enumerated items respective to undeployed state the system with those of the system post-deployed state; then deeming that the system is not stable based on some missed item, and performing a rollback according to the created initial restore point.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Drawings: informal copy

6. It is highly urged that before submitting the Issuance Fees for the above Notice of Allowance the Applicant provide a official copy of the current set of Drawings, the official copy including more formal version of the Drawings as opposed to hand-drawn or informal sketching of record, with Figure 2 and 3 thereof being cited for publication as per this Office Action.
